

2010 Government Customer Support Conference

Exhibitor Opportunities

Dear Colleagues and Friends,

Be one of the ten exhibitors at GCSC 2010 and market your products and services at one of THE most targeted Government Help Desk, Contact Center and Service Portal conferences in the public sector. There are a limited number of exclusive sponsorship opportunities. Hurry – every spot in our conference sells out, and spaces are going to go quickly. Contact us before they are all taken!

Meet with key people from Government agencies at the State, Local and Federal levels at the 9th Annual Government Customer Support Conference (GCSC) April 19-21 at the Hilton Old Town in Alexandria, VA. We have developed a culture at our conferences that facilitates and encourages the development of positive relationships between practitioners and sponsors in a very intimate setting. This is an unsurpassed way to create a win for everyone involved – the attendees learn about the products and services to make their jobs easier and enable delivery of advanced support services and the sponsors form meaningful relationships with attendees for future and ongoing relationships.

This year, we are putting a focus on leadership, communication, technology enhancements and embracing change. This is a crucial year for change. We need to find better and more efficient ways to deliver customer service by improved technology usage, motivating teams and advancing processes. You can help attendees reach for and attain their goals by delivering superior education about your products and services during exhibit hours, on breaks and at evening networking gatherings.

We feel strongly that all vendors should have an opportunity to sponsor an event with such an extremely targeted audience made up of key decision makers. We are offering an a la carte selection of investment opportunities. There are sponsorship opportunities from $500 - $5,500 so everyone can find something that will fit their budgetary requirements.

Why Exhibit?

The Government Customer Support Conference and Expo, in its 9th year, has been rated by the attendees as an event rich with very pertinent content having high quality speakers covering the major aspects of service and support in the Government. Last year was our best and most highly rated event yet and we intend to be better in 2010!

We deliver one of the most targeted events in this space, focused entirely on the educational and networking experience for our attendees. Our attendees come back year after year, demonstrating their appreciation for an event that is worth their time and investment. The 9th Annual Government Customer Support Conference and Expo 2010 represents one of the best opportunities for your company to directly connect and form intimate relationships with decision-makers as they make critical purchasing decisions on service and support solutions for their organizations.

What will be done to create a blended community and increase your exposure?

We believe that when vendors participate in sessions they will improve their product and service offerings through a better understanding of the attendees' needs and be better able to serve our attendees and the industry.

- Vendors, who have sponsored the event, investing a minimum of $4500.00, may have one staff attend any and all sessions at no extra cost.
- Vendors may attend the Mastermind Sessions and actively participate in these intimate discussions. If they have purchased the appropriate sponsorship or can drive attendees to the conference using their marketing lists and customer relationships, vendors can lead a Mastermind discussion group.
- We will enthusiastically help you arrange for a user group meeting onsite. You must let us know in advance so we can make the necessary arrangements, publicize the meeting if possible, and be sure the details are posted when people arrive.
- Maximum exposure to attendees will be afforded with lunches held in the exhibitor area. The exhibitor area will be open during the entire event. You may stay in your exhibit area the entire time but we encourage you to attend sessions during slow periods. We also offer allocated time both days to encourage one-on-one time with the attendees who have an interest in your products and services.
- The exhibitor area is in the General Session room for easy access by the attendees.
- You will gain visibility in front of our audience by introducing speakers during the conference sessions.
- Sign up for / attend networking activities both within the conference and outside (tour or dinner groups) for building long lasting relationships with attendees in non-sales environments. We will help to introduce you to groups that plan annual sight-seeing outings during the conference.
